

ANTIPODES®

SCIENTIFIC ORGANIC BEAUTY™

Hallelujah!

New Certified Organic
Facial Cleanser from Antipodes®

carbonZero

certified small enterprise

ANTIPODES®

SCIENTIFIC ORGANIC BEAUTY™

Hallelujah! New Certified Organic Facial Cleanser from Antipodes®

An impeccably pure new facial cleanser is released by scientifically validated organic beauty brand™, Antipodes® as part of its certified organic range of sophisticated beauty products.

Hallelujah! Unlike most alcohol based cleansers, this 100% pure organic avocado oil based cleanser actually hydrates and nurtures the skin as it cleanses.

Antipodes® Hallelujah Lime & Patchouli Cleanser has essential extracts of lime and patchouli which cleanse, purify and uplift while a stunning extract from the native New Zealand kawakawa plant, harnessed for centuries for its potent healing ability, removes impurities.

A delight to use during any daily beauty or grooming routine, the creamy cleanser is incredibly effective for removing even the most resilient make-up – including eye make-up – with ease.

Avocado oil is naturally blessed with high amounts of phytosterols which can help regenerate skin and soften the tissue by deeply moisturising its upper layers. Phytosterols also provide protection from water loss in the skin and increase surface lipids, soothing skin and keeping it hydrated.

The certified organic cleanser offers consumers assurance that they are getting skincare as close to nature as possible. It is inspected and certified organic by AsureQuality Ltd at every stage of its production from the cultivation and processing of ingredients right through to packaging, storage and delivery.

Asurequality is an independent government regulatory body which is the leading provider of food safety and bio-security services in the southern hemisphere. It meets the most stringent of worldwide organic standards as set by the International Federation of Organic Agriculture Movements (IFOAM).

Captivate your senses with divinely fragranced Antipodes® products, with essential oils combining to achieve fragrances evocative of Antipodean experiences like star-filled summer nights and dewy spring mornings in the forest.

Antipodes® designer packaging on the cleanser's recyclable glass bottle is inspired by New Zealand's lush rainforest, with innovative botanical-inspired wallpaper patterning on the front. Striking modernist typography makes the labels intentionally reversible – encouraging people to read the pure ingredient lists and meaning they look equally gorgeous from all angles.

Antipodes® Hallelujah Lime & Patchouli Cleanser is best applied rhythmically to face, neck and cleavage using clean fingertips at sunrise and sunset, and rinsed with warm and pure water.

